

We plant a tree with every new kitchen

Kitcheners Kitchens: A Climate Friendly Business

At Kitcheners Kitchens we value our natural environment. The building industry is so reliant on our natural surroundings and these ecosystems are very fragile. So for every kitchen purchased, we plant a tree.

We anticipate that with our help, the natural environment will benefit in various ways from creating wind breaks, reducing soil erosion, helping combat salinity, improving biodiversity, sequestering carbon, creating habitats for native fauna and improving the overall sustainability of regional Australia.

You too can help support a sustainable world with us at Kitcheners Kitchens.
