

Enchanted design

With exquisite emerald benchtops and a stunning ceramic mosaic feature, this kitchen is almost magical

THIS KITCHEN SUCCEEDS FROM BOTH A FUNCTIONAL AND AESTHETIC PERSPECTIVE.

Extraordinary is a word that springs to mind when describing this brand new kitchen. A variety of stylish touches has come together to create one outstanding design. An emerald-green granite benchtop dazzles all who step foot into the kitchen while an ornate ceramic mosaic feature above the kitchen sink and stainless-steel benchtop is a visual treat.

The team at Kitcheners Kitchens were the magicians behind this work of art. Completely unique from both a functional and aesthetic perspective, the space is the perfect example of what can be achieved with a creative mind and a solid set of skills.

The owners requested an expansive space that would integrate with the adjacent dining area to create one large, dynamic cooking and entertaining space. The first challenge presented to the Kitcheners team was converting the home's old, back patio into a workable kitchen space.

An abundance of both bench and storage spaces were key to the design, with one side of the kitchen completely dedicated to cupboard storage and a butler's pantry. Where this space really excels, however, is the successful merge of the latest technology, such as Blum soft-close drawers and organisational systems, with striking design touches. All top-of-the-line appliances are artfully incorporated into the design with a built-in double oven and steamer integrated into the stunning feature wall.

With its colourful benchtops and ultra-modern feel, this Kitcheners Kitchen is the fresh new centrepiece of the home and where the owners love to cook in and show off to their friends.
