

THE ESSENTIAL E-BOOK TO AVOID GETTING BURNT BY YOUR NEW KITCHEN.

STORY BY MICHAEL PENNY, PHOTOGRAPHY BY KITCHENERS KITCHENS

Australia's love of property extends to a love of renovations, particularly in kitchens. However this love affair can often turn nasty when so-called specialists offer substandard service and product. Irate consumers suddenly face blown out budgets, shoddy workmanship and chronically late delivery on their purchases.

Living without a kitchen for even a matter of days is a nightmare, which has compelled Kitcheners Kitchens to draw on its vast knowledge base and publish Australia's first Essential Kitchen Ideas e-book to protect you from getting burnt when buying a new kitchen.

The book covers all the bare essentials and critical facts such as:

- Utilising any sized space ensuring it's designed to its fullest potential.
- Considering the widest range of components and finishes so you do not have any regrets when it's too late.
- Knowing when designers cut corners, again before it's too late.
- Knowing timelines so design to delivery doesn't feel like an eternity.
- Safety tips to ensure the finished kitchen is not a disaster trap.
- Budget and payments issues so that bills don't come in twice as high, nor are you left high and dry after making a deposit.

These are just some of the critical issues that the e-book addresses.

Kitcheners Kitchens has a great range of brand new kitchen finishes and designs. We need clients with homes in your area to "show them off". We'll need to take photos of your new kitchen for our brochure when it's installed. (It's cheaper than building a set and it looks better in a real home). We may also need your testimonial when completed. Who knows, we may even photograph your kitchen for an upcoming issue of Real Living.
